REV. C. A. LEHMBERG IS BURIED IN BARTLETT ON SUNDAY, DECEMBER 4

Rev. C. A. Lehmborg, former pastor of the Methodist Church in Cameron, died at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on December 2, 1932 at his home in Bartlett. His wife and children were with him when the end came. He had been in declining health for more than two years. News of the death of the former pastor was received in Cameron with universal sorrow.

Native Texan

Rev. Lehmborg was born in Castell, Llano county in 1874, where he grew to manhood. He received his degree at Southwestern University and went to his first church appointment as a minister 41 years ago at Bartlett where he met and married Miss Lydia Hempel. To this union were born ten children, three of whom preceded him in death.

Served Many Charges

In his early ministry was pastor in the German Methodist Conference preaching in the German language. Later he was Presiding Elder in the Methodist Texas Conference. He served a number of charges, among them were Palestine, Houston, Crockett, where he remained for five years coming to Cameron from there in 1929 and served the First Methodist church here for three years. The past year of his ministry in Cameron he had been in ill health and was forced to give up active duties, but was ever anxious over his church, and assisted at intervals until he was compelled to take needed rest for three months during the summer, when he went with his wife and daughter to Kerrville and San Antonio, where he seemed to have made progress in recovery, returning to Cameron the last of August.

Celebrated Anniversary

During the fall he was most happy to celebrate the 41 anniversary of his ministerial work in the pulpit of his church where he received loving recognition of his life work. The Missionary Society presented him a large basket of handsome pink rosebuds, numbering 41 at the morning services.

He was loved by his congregation and other denominations, and during his stay in Cameron his talent and time contributed much to the life of the city.

Asked for Leave.

Not feeling strong enough to take up his life work at the time Annual Texas Conference met this fall, he asked for a year's relief from work, and moved with his wife to Bartlett where they were making their home with her aged father and sisters.

After having gone through the clinic in a hospital in Temple on Monday before his demise on Friday, he was pronounced as doing well, but cautioned to take care of a cold that he seemed to be suffering from. He returned to his home and was confined to his bed for a few days when the end came.

Funeral at Bartlett

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church at Bartlett, by Rev. E. L. Ingram, presiding elder of the Marlin District, assisted by Rev. Rector of San Antonio, a life long friend, who gave a tribute to the life work of deceased and Rev. Bond, pastor of the Bartlett Methodist church.

The funeral services were concluded at the Bartlett cemetery where deceased was laid to rest by the side of a son who died more than 4 years ago.

WHALE EXHIBIT HERE MONDAY, DECEMBER 12

Thousands of Americans who have never seen a whale and never expected to see one of the largest living creatures, are now enjoying the opportunity as a result of the transcontinental tour of the famous whale of Sam Clemente, coming to Cameron for one day only, Monday, December 12.

The whale will be on exhibition here in a specially constructed railroad car occupying a side track at S. P. Depot. Weighing seventy-two tons and measuring more than sixty-five feet from its massive head to the powerful tail, the whale presents a spectacle of unusual interest.

In a perfect state of preservation, accomplished by expert embalmers, the whale is revealed as one of the finest specimens of the finback variety ever captured.

Back of the capture of the whale several weeks ago near San Clemente Island, off the S. U. coast of California, is the story of a battle which veteran whalers have declared to be the hardest and most thrilling in the history of whaling.

The whale battled furiously against his fate for several hours, often threatening to wreck the whaling boat and claim the lives of its crew. The fight started when the bomb in the head of the first harpoon fired into the whale's body failed to explode. It was not until the whaling crew, completely exhausted and ready to abandon the fight, worked the whale into position for a second shot that the struggle ended.

Write to Santa Claus

SANTA CLAUS WANTS TO HEAR FROM YOU. OUR ANNUAL CHRISTMAS NUMBER IS SOON TO BE ISSUED, AND SANTA CLAUS HAS REQUESTED THAT THE CHILDREN OF CAMERON AND COMMUNITY SEND HIM GREETINGS AND WRITE THEIR REQUESTS TO HIM FOR GIFTS. ALL LETTERS SHOULD BE WRITTEN AT ONCE AND MAILED TO THE CAMERON HERALD.

"As Little Children"

THE survival power of Christmas, its persistence as a world-wide festival, lies in the fact that it quickens in all of us the sense of human kinship. It gets beneath the surface cynicism and releases those finer impulses which we all possess. For a day we become again "as little children," and the child in our midst is the symbol of the joy which we seek.

A Merry Christmas then—merry because it brings to us the vision of love ruling in the hearts of men, and renewed hope that the dream of a day may yet become the perpetual reality.

J. WILLIAMSON BURIED AT MERKEL DECEMBER 4

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Blaylock have returned from Merkel where they attended the funeral of J. M. Williamson Sunday afternoon. Mr. Williamson died Saturday night, December 3rd, and was buried from the First Baptist church at Merkel and was laid to rest in the Merkel cemetery.

Mr. Williamson was a native of Milam county, and reared at Corinth, near Cameron. He was married to Miss Priscilla Payne in 1899 and made their home at Corinth until 1908 when they moved to West Texas where he had engaged in farming.

Mrs. Williamson is a sister of Mrs. Blaylock, Mrs. B. F. Gafford, another sister of Austin, and Mrs. Fannie Norman of Thorndale, a sister of deceased, also attended the funeral.

A Correction

The Herald is requested to make a correction of an error in the advertisement of the Citizens National Bank last week. Interest on time deposits was advertised at 4 per cent. This is an error. The rate now being paid is 3 per cent. Phillip Reid, cashier of the bank, said many had made inquiries about this which is proof that the ads are read and that depositors are interested in their earnings. The Herald regrets this error and all time depositors are notified that the rate being paid is 3 per cent instead of 4 as advertised last week.

Chas. Brady Is Elected Secretary Lions Club

NOTED FAITH HEALER SPEAKS TO CROWD IN CAMERON TABERNACLE

Mrs. Raymond T. Richey spoke at the Cameron Gospel Tabernacle to a splendid crowd Wednesday. She will also speak there on Thursday night. Mrs. Richey is the wife of the noted evangelist, Raymond T. Richey. As a member of her husband's evangelistic party Mrs. Richey has traveled over this nation and in other nations carrying the Gospel of Jesus Christ. On Wednesday night she attended to a miraculous healing in her own body. She emphasizes the gospel of healing in her message, but states that more important than the healing of the body is the healing of the soul.

Evangelist Raymond T. Richey and his party have just closed a meeting in Lake Charles, La. Rev. Richey has gone to Florida for a week's meeting while his wife makes an itinerary, which includes Cameron for two nights.

Beginning on Sunday night in the Cameron Gospel Tabernacle Phillip S. Kerr and wife, also members of the Raymond T. Richey party, will be bringing a real treat to the music lovers of Cameron. Before his conversion, Mr. Kerr was a theatrical pipe organist of note on the Pacific coast. He has broadcast over some fifty or sixty stations in the United States and Canada and Cuba. Over these stations he is known as the "Happy Boy."

Mr. Kerr is a real preacher, a young man of great faith. He is also the composer of more than 300 gospel songs. In his meetings he frequently has his audience suggest a title and in a few minutes he will compose words and music and play and sing this new song.

Rev. Ben D. Hodge of Lexington, Texas, is the pastor of the undenominational Cameron Gospel Tabernacle, which is located just across from the City Park.

Correction Is Made In Vote at Salty Box

The Champion gladly makes correction of an error which appeared in the tabulated election returns of the Salty voting box on the race of governor. The returns printed in the Champion showed that Bullington received 26 votes against 6 for Mrs. Ferguson, which was an error on the part of the Commissioner's Court who tabulated and issued the returns to the Milam County Press. Officials in charge of the Salty box state that the returns should have read 26 votes for Mrs. Ferguson and 6 for Bullington. The Champion gladly makes this correction at the request of the Salty people, as the report cast a reflection on this thriving little community of our friends and neighbors. We are indeed glad that only 6 of the 33 votes cast were party bolters—Thorndale Champion.

He is taking a few hours off from his busy tour to pay a visit to Cameron children. His visit to the city has been arranged by the Lions Club and the program includes a big parade with Santa the main attraction. There will be band music and a grand time for the kiddies.

The parade will start promptly at 6:30 in the evening. Thousands of children are expected to be on the street to welcome Santa Claus. President O. C. Acree of the Lions Club said that a message received from Santa requested that the children turn out for his visit. Santa will arrive by airplane and will be met at the landing field by a committee of Lions and he will be driven direct to the city streets where he hopes to spend a few minutes in greeting his hundreds of little friends just before Christmas.

Santa does not want to disappoint any of his little friends and makes a special request that they be somewhere along the line of parade so he may see and recognize each one.

The city will be a colorful place of gleaming lights and holiday attire for the distinguished visitor. Be on time.

Several turkeys and several sacks of flour will be thrown from the truck by Santa Claus into the crowd. These are free to those who are lucky to get them. Santa Claus has a special treat for all the kiddies. Every few feet the truck will stop and he will throw candy to the children. Santa is very anxious to have all the children of Milam county to come to town and welcome him Monday evening at 6:30.

Dorothy Blaylock To Direct Play Here By Yoe Dramatic Class

Thursday, December 15 at 8 o'clock the Yoe High Dramatic Class will present a comedy in three acts, "Oh, Professor!" by Katherine Kavanaugh, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Blaylock.

The play is full of humorous situations, merry complications, and scrambled fun. It is all about a light hearted crowd of characters, crisscrossed in a tangle of absurd mix-ups that does not get straightened out until the final curtain goes down on two hours of riotous fun-making.

The comedy revolves around the precise Miss Frederica, who has her maidenly eye on the scholarly Dr. Aristotle; there's the beautiful and astute Patricia and the dynamic Fifi; there's Jake, the comic janitor; the uproariously funny role of Percival; the irrepressible Jimmy, and the much badgered Michael. Then there are the four pretty girls—Bertha, Jean, Fluff and Belle—who bounce through the play.

Members of the cast are: Jack Masters, Madie Watson, Niley Smith, Carolyn Cheeves, Mary Reywood, Julian, Sula Mae Depew, Nancy Newton, John Watson, Julian Freeman, Ray Burke, Patsy McGregor and Bettye McCollum.

Playlets and specialty numbers will be presented between acts.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

When Valerie von Sturm demands that Paul Onslow, head of the Sylvanian delegation at the Geneva Peace Conference, choose between her and his career, he writes his resignation. Then he is strangled. Professor Bauer, a noted scientist, who has called to attend Valerie's dinner-reception that night, restores him to six hours of life with a machine of his invention. Paul who shows an uncanny knowledge of events happening since his demise, tears up his resignation. He says he knows his assailant. Karl Kranz, Valerie's former fiance, suspected by the police chief of attacking Paul, enters.

Chapter V

"GOOD evening gentlemen," said Karl. Then apologizing. "I hope I haven't delayed dinner. My cab was held up in traffic."

"Oh, International Boulevard, wasn't it Karl," asked Onslow.

His friend stared at him dumbfounded as he agreed. Satisfied that there had been no murderous anger between these two the Commissioner puffed at his cigar resignedly.

When the others had gone down to join Valerie's guests, Karl remained behind with his friend, still puzzled that he should know of the traffic delay. His uneasiness increased as Paul presented him with valuable papers in case of his death and showed little interest in Valerie's dinner party. When Karl had gone down, Paul took the flower from his dresser and put it in his lapel. He lifted Ivan's cross and hung it about his neck.

Valerie was waiting for him at the foot of the staircase, her eyes shining, devouring him. She reproached him tenderly for his tardiness. Then slipping her arm in his, she presented him to her guests.

When dinner was announced and the company divided into partners and passed into the dining room Valerie looked for Paul to take her in. She was astonished to see him leaving the room with the Marquessa Franco on his arm. Puzzled and hurt she went in with Karl.

At the table, her composure recovered, she set about placing her guests.

"Monsieur le Commissaire, will you sit here, next to me," indicating the chair on her left. "And you Professor, on Papa's left, and Karl, on Papa's right, and Paul—here—beside me."

Paul passed the chair designated.

"If you don't mind Valerie, I'll sit here beside the Marquessa. She is so interested in politics."

Valerie's smile faded, her eyes filled with pain at the rebuff. This was the second affront. Then collecting herself, she turned to her guests.

"Shall we be seated?" Soon the courses began to arrive and the guests forgot the incident.

When the cigarettes had been lighted Paul slipped away. He had ordered his car to be ready to take him to the conference, and sent Ivan to ask Valerie to meet him in the garden.

He came upon her under the poplars. "Valerie," he murmured, "I had to speak to you before I left."

"Judging from your manners," her reply came coldly, "I know what you're going to say."

He moistened his dry lips.

"I don't want to hurt you dear, but what you ask is impossible. Think what you want me to give up—a great political career—a brilliant diplomatic life—everything I've striven to achieve."

"I see," her hands writhed agonizedly. "They mean so much more than I or my love."

"My dear —"

"That's it—don't it?" His arms moved out to embrace her and she shrank away.

"Don't touch me. I suppose, after your victory tonight, you'll go home—and they'll unveil a statue in your honor," sneering.

"THE GREAT PAUL ONSLow — PATRIOT. That's so much finer than any tribute I could give"—her voice broke—"even though mine would have called you, 'Father'."

Blind with anger she could not see that she was crucifying him. Only half hearing his tortured, Valerie, don't—"

TOM GARFIELD IN CAMP

I have just read a very interesting book of adventure called "Tom Garfield in Camp." It was written by a very interesting author named Allen Chapman.

The best character and the most delightful character was Tom Garfield himself. He had sandy hair; his clothes were old, and while in camp he wore a fur cap which was made from a panther's hide. Tom was very strong, not only in body but in mind. Tom was a very good singer, that is the boys in camp said he was.

One day his partner was sitting under a tree leaning up against the trunk of it asleep. The other boys were off hunting for something to eat. They came around the bend of the river just in time to see a large beast make a leap for Fred. Tom shot and hit the beast through the body. Fred had a lame leg and could not run. He just began to roll down the river bank to the water for the beast was not yet dead. Tom gave the beast a shot that struck his heart and that was the last time he ever saw daylight.

I would advise all boys to read this book for it is very exciting and will help make you want to do the same things he did.

—James Brogdon.

TOMMY DANE OF SONORA

I have just finished a book of adventure "Tomy Dane of Sonora," written by A. Grove Day. It is a good story.

The chief character is Tommy Dane, Jr., who has courage. His clothing is ragged and old. He does not have any shoes. He is quick and sly.

The best scene in the story is when he finds his father, who had been captured by a tribe of Indians and half crazed Mexicans. Tom, his father, Joe Buckingham and dead shot Garretty escaped being killed by Indigo, a crazed Mexican rebel.

I recommend this story to be read by my class mates. I am very glad I read it.

—Victor Walzel.

PIRATES OF THE SHOALS

I have read a very exciting book about several pirates trying to capture a ship from two young boys. The name of the book is "Pirates of the Shoals," which was written by Barbour.

The character that I liked most is the "Bearded Man." He had very long, dirty, shaggy whiskers, and was very mean and rough looking. He tried to shoot down one of the boys, but Terry, ran him off with a revolver.

The most exciting incident that took place was when Terry, Trick and Snook, the dog, ran away with the three pirates, Dave, Red and the Bearded Man. The Bearded Man came and told Dave and Red that Terry and Trick were trying to take Tricks's father's ship to him. Terry, Trick and Snook slipped off and got the ship started, and left the shoals. All night the pirates chased the ship, but finally got lost from the sight of it, and the boys got away.

This book is very interesting for boys and girls in the sixth and seventh grades. I think the boys would enjoy the story more than the girls would.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

For my six weeks reading assignment I read the book by Rafael Sabatini, "Captain Blood." This is a book of adventure.

The best character was Captain Blood. His clothing was different at different times. As a doctor it was fine clothing; as a slave homespun; as a pirate sometimes fine, sometimes poor. One of his characteristics was to always remain cool. Another was he was never fooled, but always fooling the other fellow. He was a very learned character which is to be proved by some of his sayings, such as "praemonitus, praemonitus," which in Latin means "forewarned, forearmed."

The most exciting scene in the story is when Dan Diego, brother of the Admiral of Spain, betrays him. Don Diego was to navigate him to the Dutch settlement of Curacao, but instead he takes them to the Spanish Island of Hispaniola.

I recommend this story to be read as it is full of adventure.

—Luie Turner.

LITTLE PAPOOSE LISTENS

I have just been feading a very interesting book of adventure. The name of the book is "Little Papoose Listens." It was written by a very interesting author, Ellen Donaldson.

The best character of the book is the little Papoose. The little papoose is a very strong little boy. He has a blanket over his back.

The most exciting incident was when little papoose was lost in the woods. The old Indian Chief got his men to go and look for little Papoose or there would be war. The men began to quarrel and finally the fight began. As they were fighting, they heard a loud cry. The men ran into the woods and there was Little Papoose playing with the birds. The old Indian Chief went and got Little Papoose and carried him home. When the old Indian Chief came home everyone was happy.

I would recommend the book to be read, because it tells about the way the Indians lived. I would advise girls and boys to read this book because it is very interesting.

—Louie Rimer.

TWO LITTLE CONFEDERATES

The name of the book that I have read lately is "Two Little Confederates." The book tells of the experiences of two little boys during the Civil War. It is written by Thomas Nelson Page.

The best character in the story is Frank. He is the older of the two boys and always plans their adventures. He is mischievous; his brain is always busy. The family lose their money during the War and the boys do not have very good clothes.

The most important event is the battle which takes place in the meadow back of the house. The boys' enemy friend gets killed in the battle, and they are very sorry because he was good to them when they were in danger. The battle was important also because it was the nearest that took place near their home.

I enjoyed the story very much. I am sure that anyone else who reads it will find it very interesting. You learn of the hardships of the people during the war and how the mischievous boys managed to get fun from even those conditions.

—Zora Wilkerson.

THE ALASKAN

I have read "The Alaskan" for this term's outside reading. This is an adventure story of a man who wanted to solve the troubles of Alaska. The author of this book is James Oliver Curwood.

John Graham, the man who starved and killed people of Alaska, and the man who had Alaska under his control is the character I like. He is a cruel robber and killer. Graham usually wore a large dark brown hat, boots and black pants. When Mary Standish and Alan Hobt planned to go to the states they investigated their path to see if it were clear of danger. After walking a mile or two Mary grew pale. At this time she saw figures at a distance. She cried out "they look like animals—no, they are men. John Graham is coming after us." This is an exciting part of the story.

This story is an enjoyable one. It teaches us how to overcome difficulties and how to go through life.

—Alvin Sustek.

ROBERT MOFAT

In my leisure time I have read a book of which the name is "Robert Mofat." It is a missionary book. The book is written by Grace Arthur.

The strongest character in the book is Robert Mofat. He is a tall man who wears a moustache. He can control himself easily. He is also very kind.

Robert Mofat was the most civilized man in the country. The Chief of an Indian tribe had a savage dog. One time in the story the dog ate an old woman's Bible.

I would advise the boys to read this book, for it is about fighting between the tribes, and I am sure all boys like fighting.

—Eugenia Alford.

THE LONG TRAIL BOYS AND THE MYSTERY OF THE FINGERPRINT

The name of the interesting book is "The Long Trail Boys and the Mystery of the Fingerprint." It is a book of mystery and adventure of Snow King Mountain. This book was written by Dale Wilkins.

The best character in this book is Floreso, who wore a suit of feathers, which he had found in a cave in the mountains, after his father had been murdered by this crazy man. He was kind and very good.

The most important event I think was when Strangle Neet was hiding upon the mountain to get Floreso. Floreso and the others were going to shoot him, but as they were going to shoot, Floreso's big white horse, who the Strangle Neet had been trying to kill, came up behind Strangle Neet and kicked him off the cliff and killed him.

I would recommend this book to anyone who like to read adventure and mystery stories.

—Taylor Moore.

KIT CARSON

I have just finished an exciting and adventurous story called "Kit Carson's Life," which was written by S. Ellis.

The best character was Kit himself. He wore a felt hat, buck skin shoes and the rest of his dress was leather. A pistol was on his right and left, and a rifle on his right arm. One of his sayings was: "It is better to be weak in stature than weak in mind." He was about five feet and six inches in height.

The most exciting incident was when the Black Feet Indians captured some of the horses. Later the trappers overtook them, and they had a little skirmish.

I will gladly recommend this book to anyone. You will like it because you will learn some of the good habits of Kit. He is one of the most famous characters of the gold rush time. He made a path for all gold seekers in California.

—Connie Strickland.

EMILY OF NEW MOON

I have just finished reading a very interesting book called "Emily of New Moon." This story is more suited for a girl to read than for a boy. The author of the book is Montgomery. From beginning to end it is full of adventures.

The character in the story that I disliked was Emily's aunt Elizabeth. Miss Elizabeth is very stiff. She dresses very old fashioned and is "just so," is very stern and does not care for fun of many kinds and she does not care for foolishness of any kind. She has a very hard voice and manner.

In this story the most exciting incident happened while Emily was very ill. While she was ill she was thought to be unconscious. She said that she could see a man's wife who ran away from home. Her aunt did not believe her, but Emily kept on saying that she knew that she saw her fall in the well in the meadow. Finally Miss Elizabeth looked in the well and sure enough she found the lady. After this she liked Emily better. Emily was not unconscious after all.

I would surely recommend this story to be read by both boys and girls. I am sure, though, that a girl would enjoy it much more than a boy.

—Ella Bess Haygood.

THE RANCH GIRLS AT BOARDING SCHOOL

I have read a very interesting book the last six weeks by the name of "The Ranch Girls at Boarding School." This is the story of the ranch girls school days, and of finding one girl's grandmother. It is written by Margaret Vandercook.

The character that I liked best was Olive Ralston, one of the four ranch girls. She wore dresses that Ruth Drew had made for her. She wore her dark black hair down on her shoulders. She had dark complexion which made her very white teeth show very plainly. She did not know her parents and many people thought she was half Indian. She often told Jean Bruce, her room mate to go on without her because she did not want to stand in the way of Jean's popularity. Olive was a very quiet, sweet girl.

I think the most important event in this book is when Olive Ralston found her grandmother. From old papers and from an old Indian woman, Miss Katherine Winthrop proved that Olive's grandmother was Madame Van Master, the rich old lady who lived just behind Primrose Hall.

I would recommend that each girl in the Seventh Grade class read the book in her leisure time. It teaches a girl not to be sarcastic and not to talk about people of whom you know nothing.

—Helen Ryan.

TROOP NO. 52

J. A. Lindle, Scoutmaster

The regular meeting was held Friday night with an attendance of 34. The feature of the evening was the visit of the scoutmaster's brother, Sargeant H. A. Lindle, of the sixty-second service squadron at Brooksfield, San Antonio. Sargeant Lindle who has been quite a world traveler, proved to be an interesting speaker and the scouts were fascinated by his adventure stories of the far East, Siberia, the South American Jungles, China, Japan and the beautiful Hawaiian Islands. The scouts were especially interested in the Chinese wall.

The games were conducted by the assistant scoutmaster, Louis Matula.

On Tuesday night, November 29, Troop No. 53 celebrated their annual rabbit feast in the hall of the K. of C. With pleasant memories of the last years event, the boys and guests were on hand early. The tables were in banquet style and well supplied with rabbit, salads, pickles, bread, apples, candy and coffee.

Seated at the head of the table were the scoutmaster, J. A. Lindle;

toastmaster, George Matocha; District Judge elect, W. G. Gillis, chairman of the local court of honor and troop committeeman, A. G. Kunz; F. A. Michalka, Rudolph Richter, Dr. A. S. Valenta; Grand Knight, R. A. Michalka and Walter Plocek. Then followed Assistant Scoutmaster Louis Matula; twenty registered scouts and eight visiting scouts making a total attendance of 34. Tenderfoot scout, Johnnie Stanislaw served coffee at the table. After the meal the scoutmaster in a unique and well arranged prophecy of 20 years hence introduced the toastmaster for the evening. George in a very pleasing way conducted the balance of the program, which included speeches from Judge Gillis, the Committeeman and the Grand Knight, followed an interesting story from C. W. Gjedge, cowboy songs by "Hank" Matula and his guitar, French harp selections by Patrol Leader, Paul Michalka.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, the meeting was turned over to the scoutmaster who presented the membership of Troop No. 52 to Judge Gillis. After a brief response by Judge Gillis, the affair was closed by Judge Gillis leading with the scout oath and law. "America" was sung by the entire assembly.

The entire membership of Troop No. 52 wishes to express their thanks to Mr. Joe Richter, Mrs. Gussie Matula, Mrs. Kunz, Mr. Joe Schriber and especially to the hunters who killed the rabbits.

The banquet was enjoyed by all those present and everyone is looking forward to the feast that will be held next year.

TROOP NO. 32

B. L. Archer, Scoutmaster.

Troop No. 32 had a strictly play meeting Friday night with the boys in charge. The scoutmaster was present but ill with a cold so had to be on the silent list.

Melvin and Anthony Cecil formerly of Buckholts and members of Troop No. 32, write that they are transferring to a troop at Rusk near their new home, which is at Alto, Texas. We all hope that they will be as active in scout work there as they were here.

TROOP NO. 53

J. W. Haygood, Scoutmaster

The regular meeting was held Friday night with a very good attendance. One new scout registered for this year in scouting. This meeting was given over to games of various kinds and just before closing, a program was arranged for our next meeting. The Black Bear Patrol is to furnish the program, while our scoutmaster will give another quiz on some parts of scouting. Each patrol leader is urged to have all his members in attendance at each meeting.

Correction Is Made In Vote at Salty Box

The Champion gladly makes correction of an error which appeared in the tabulated election returns of the Salty voting box on the race of governor. The returns printed in the Champion showed that Bullington received 26 votes against 6 for Mrs. Ferguson, which was an error on the part of the Commissioner's Court who tabulated and issued the returns to the Milan County Press. Officials in charge of the Salty box state that the returns should have read 26 votes for Mrs. Ferguson and 6 for Bullington. The Champion gladly makes this correction at the request of the Salty people, as the report cast a reflection on this thriving little community of our friends and neighbors. We are indeed glad that only 6 of the 33 votes cast were party bolters.—Thorndale Champion.

Turkey Raisers Read This!

Thanksgiving turkey market is now past history but we believe will be remembered by many.

We have started buying turkeys for our eastern Christmas requirements and will pay the market price every day. Last year the Eastern markets sold turkeys to the consumer at about 10 cents per pound higher with about the same number of cars on the market, and all were sold and consumed. This year with practically 75 per cent of the crop still on the farms and nearly 300 cars stored from the Thanksgiving market, (amounting to over five million pounds) on account of lack of demand and buying power, we are not going to predict what price they will bring for Christmas.

There are not many dressing plants in Texas that can handle more or as many turkeys per day as your home dressing plant, however, we cannot handle the remaining crop in only a few days and get them to the eastern markets for Christmas. We suggest that you bring in a few turkeys every time you come to town and take the low and take the high and this will give you a good average price for your crop, and which will not congest the dressing plants. A congestion of dressing plants means lower prices and this year may mean no price at all during congestion.

Your attention is called to this fact: We don't operate trucks or have buyers in the trade territory nor pay commissions to anyone. You raise the turkeys and you are entitled to every cent they are worth. You can bet your last dollar, anyone hustling or buying your turkeys on the farm is making a nice profit, which you can make yourself.

We guarantee that we will pay the highest market price for straight run flocks (by this we mean an equal proportion of hens and toms) free of feed, straight breasted healthy turkeys. We will be glad to talk the turkey situation over with you any time day or night and give you the best we have in the shop. Get in touch with us before selling and get the top price for your products.

Remember, we are a home institution and employ about 200 needy people, and every penny is spent here in your community. We sincerely ask for co-operation.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women: "I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardui, the purely vegetable medicine which so many women take and recommend, is sold by local druggists.

May Enjoy Christmas in Mansions in the Skies

IT IS not now the fashion to "keep both feet on the ground." In fact it's hard to keep even one foot on the ground; the other one seems always to be up, getting into a car or an airplane; and pretty soon, there you are—both feet entirely, completely, distinctly off the ground.

What this condition may mean to future generations is hard to guess. Perhaps in a year or two people will make a date to celebrate Christmas three thousand feet up in the air. "Come on up!" friends may be urging. "We're going to shoot a party up over Mt. Washington. Dancing, charades and a fancy dress ball!"

And we shall be obliged to taxi in a small plane to the party and be whisked aboard, and worry whether we can get a taxi-plane home again.

And every cockpit will be trimmed in colored bulbs and the trade for Christmas trees will be literally going up! Plane trucks to deliver a fine spruce at the service entrance of a Flying Mansion in the Skies.

So don't stick to that old one about both feet on the ground. If you do, you'll find yourself frightfully low-down and left behind!—Martha Banning Thomas.

Mrs. Tom Paul of Rockdale, spent Saturday here with Mrs. M. C. Sapp. Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Cox of Galveston spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. ## Beauty and Health Depend on Minerals

Science Discovers that Health, Beauty and Life Itself Depend on Proper Mineral Balance of the Body

Beautiful Skin
Sparkling Eyes
Health and Beauty
All Depend on
Mineral Balance

Lack of Sufficient Minerals and Vitamins Destroys Health and Brings on Untold Pain and Suffering.

No man, woman or child can look their best, feel well and strong and enjoy life, as God intended, unless the Mineral content of the body is kept in proper balance. This fact has been proven conclusively.

FOODS DEVITALIZED
Modern methods of refining foods rob them of much of the Mineral content so necessary to health. Poor cooking and unbalanced diets are another source of trouble. The body is starved for the essential Minerals and Vitamins. Soon we suffer with indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness, pimply skin. We lose weight, feel tired and listless, fail to get enough sleep. Health deserts us and we wonder why.

NATURAL WAY TO HEALTH
After years of research, a new and remarkable formula has been perfected that supplies the body with the essential Minerals. This preparation is not a "patent" medicine but a scientific blending of Minerals and Vitamins that aids Nature in quickly balancing the mineral content of the body, clearing away intestinal poisons and building new strength and vitality.

MISS MARY LOUISE ELLIOTT BECOMES BRIDE OF WILLIAM WALLACE BARNETT IN BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING HERE

A beautiful twilight wedding was the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Elliott Thursday, December First, when she became the bride of William Wallace Barnett of Lampasas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox, Rev. N. D. Timmons, man of the First Baptist church reading the impressive ring ceremony.

An attractive fall setting where brown tones and green featured the chosen theme for decorations, were used throughout the reception rooms and adjoining sun parlor where an improvised altar for plighting the vows was decorated with the chosen colors. Handsome plumosa ferns rested in tall pedestal containers at either side of the wide entrance to the sun parlor which was banked with ferns, with twinkling candles gleaming at intervals in the background, casting shadowy lights over the scene. The same colors were noted in the reception parlor and throughout the home.

Mrs. A. C. Strickland presided at the piano and accompanied Mrs. C. W. Bradbury who gave a violin solo, "The Swan," by Saint Saens. The Baptist Male Quartette, composed of M. G. Cox, A. C. Strickland, John Hays and Ray Burke sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," by J. L. Molloy. For the Processional Lohengren's March was used.

Cecil Criswell was the best man and Mrs. Criswell, attired in a handsome dark maroon costume, Matron of Honor, entered by way of the sun parlor and took her stand on the side of the altar facing Mr. Criswell. Ray Duckworth was bridegroom and was followed by Miss Sue Malone, bridesmaid, attired in brown, who stood at side of altar. Next came the demure little flower girl and ring bearer, Rosemary Luckett, dressed in a light blue dress with blond slippers, carrying a novelty basket from which she dropped rose petals, taking her position at the altar, followed by the bride and bridegroom who came in together, and met the minister who read the marriage vows. During the ceremony Mrs. Strickland softly played "La Chiquitine," by Gabriel-Marie. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for the recessional when congratulations were showered upon the couple.

Mesdames George Cay, John A. Smith, J. W. Coleman and C. C. Baylor assisted Mrs. Cox in the hospitalities of the occasion, and welcomed the guests, and invited them into the dining room where Misses Gladys Davis and Dorothy Lesovsky passed brick ice cream embossed with pink wedding bells & cake. Guests were invited to register in the bride's book while in the dining room, and view the many handsome wedding gifts in the adjoining room.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. B. Elliott of Buckholts, and was handsomely dressed in a rich chestnut brown cloth suit with hat and accessories to match, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. She is a graduate of the Yoe High School, and had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox during her school days, and lived there since, occupying a stenographic position the past three years. She is deservedly popular with a large circle of friends who wish for her many good things.

The groom is the son of Mrs. W. W. Barnett of Dothan, Alabama, and is a splendid young business man. Is engaged in raising sheep and stock on a ranch near Lampasas where they will make their home.

Out of town relatives and friends to attend the wedding were: Mrs. B. Elliott and three daughters, Misses Oleta, Mattie Ruth and Elizabeth and Buford, Jr. of Buckholts; Mr. and Mrs. Baugh and two sons of Rogers; Mrs. W. W. Barnett of Dothan, Alabama, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. A. A. Smith, of Hartford, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Huey Wigham and two daughters, Velma and Anna, of Kemper; Mrs. George Cotton and Mrs. Lillie Huckabee of Temple; Mrs. Floris Criswell of Calvert; Mrs. Baker of Killeen; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Criswell of Buckholts and a large number of Cameron friends were present at the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple stole away for a short bridal trip after which they will be at home to their friends in their home near Lampasas.

SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT CAMERON MONDAY DEC. 12

REV. C. A. LEHMBERG IS BURIED IN BARTLETT ON SUNDAY, DECEMBER 4

Rev. C. A. Lehmborg, former pastor of the Methodist Church in Cameron, died at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on December 2, 1932 at his home in Bartlett. His wife and children were with him when the end came. He had been in declining health for more than two years. News of the death of the former pastor was received in Cameron with universal sorrow.

Native Texan

Rev. Lehmborg was born in Castell, Llano county in 1874, where he grew to manhood. He received his degree at Southwestern University and went to his first church appointment as a minister 41 years ago at Bartlett where he met and married Miss Lydia Hempel. To this union were born ten children, three of whom preceded him in death.

Served Many Charges

In his early ministry was pastor in the German Methodist Conference preaching in the German language. Later he was Presiding Elder in the Methodist Texas Conference. He served a number of charges, among them were Palestine, Houston, Crockett, where he remained for five years coming to Cameron from there in 1929 and served the First Methodist church here for three years. The past year of his ministry in Cameron he had been in ill health and was forced to give up active duties, but was ever anxious over his church, and assisted at intervals until he was compelled to take needed rest for three months during the summer, when he went with his wife and daughter to Kerrville and San Antonio, where he seemed to have made progress in recovery, returning to Cameron the last of August.

Celebrated Anniversary

During the fall he was most happy to celebrate the 41 anniversary of his ministerial work in the pulpit of his church where he received loving recognition of his life work. The Missionary Society presented him a large basket of handsome pink rosebuds, numbering 41 at the morning services.

He was loved by his congregation and other denominations, and during his stay in Cameron his talent and time contributed much to the life of the city.

Asked for Leave.

Not feeling strong enough to take up his life work at the time Annual Texas Conference met this fall, he asked for a year's relief from work, and moved with his wife to Bartlett where they were making their home with her aged father and sisters.

After having gone through the clinic in a hospital in Temple on Monday before his demise on Friday, he was pronounced as doing well, but cautioned to take care of a cold that he seemed to be suffering from. He returned to his home and was confined to his bed for a few days when the end came.

Funeral at Bartlett

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church at Bartlett, by Rev. E. L. Ingram, presiding elder of the Marlin District, assisted by Rev. Rector of San Antonio, a life long friend, who gave a tribute to the life work of deceased and Rev. Bond, pastor of the Bartlett Methodist church.

The funeral services were concluded at the Bartlett cemetery where deceased was laid to rest by the side of a son who died more than 4 years ago.

Active pall bearers were brother-

WHALE EXHIBIT HERE MONDAY, DECEMBER 12

Thousands of Americans who have never seen a whale and never expected to see one of the largest living creatures, are now enjoying the opportunity as a result of the transcontinental tour of the famous whale of Sam Clemente, coming to Cameron for one day only, Monday, December 12.

The whale will be on exhibition here in a specially constructed railroad car occupying a side track at S. P. Depot. Weighing seventy-two tons and measuring more than sixty-five feet from its massive head to the powerful tail, the whale presents a spectacle of unusual interest.

In a perfect state of preservation, accomplished by expert embalmers, the whale is revealed as one of the finest specimens of the finback variety ever captured.

Back of the capture of the whale several weeks ago near San Clemente Island, off the Southern coast of California, is the story of a battle which veteran whalers have declared to be the hardest and most thrilling in the history of whaling.

The whale battled furiously against his fate for several hours, often threatening to wreck the whaling boat and claim the lives of its crew. The fight started when the bomb in the head of the first harpoon fired into the whale's body failed to explode. It was not until the whaling crew, completely exhausted and ready to abandon the fight, worked the whale into position for a second shot that the struggle ended.

Write to Santa Claus

SANTA CLAUS WANTS TO HEAR FROM YOU. OUR ANNUAL CHRISTMAS NUMBER IS SOON TO BE ISSUED, AND SANTA CLAUS HAS REQUESTED THAT THE CHILDREN OF CAMERON AND COMMUNITY SEND HIM GREETINGS AND WRITE THEIR REQUESTS TO HIM FOR GIFTS. ALL LETTERS SHOULD BE WRITTEN AT ONCE AND MAILED TO THE CAMERON HERALD.

"As Little Children"

THE survival power of Christmas, its persistence as a world-wide festival, lies in the fact that it quickens in all of us the sense of human kinship. It gets beneath the surface cynicism and releases those finer impulses which we all possess. For a day we become again "as little children," and the child in our midst is the symbol of the joy which we seek.

A Merry Christmas then—mercy because it brings to us the vision of love ruling in the hearts of men, and renewed hope that the dream of a day may yet become the perpetual reality.

Mrs. Williamson is a sister of Mrs. Blaylock, Mrs. B. F. Gafford, another sister of Austin, and Mrs. Fannie Norman of Thorndale, a sister of deceased, also attended the funeral.

A Correction

The Herald is requested to make a correction of an error in the advertisement of the Citizens National Bank last week. Interest on time deposits was advertised at 4 per cent. This is an error. The rate now being paid is 3 per cent. Phillip Reid, cashier of the bank, said many had made inquiries about this which is proof that the ads are read and that depositors are interested in their earnings. The Herald regrets this error and all time depositors are notified that the rate being paid is 3 per cent instead of 4 as advertised last week.

Over these stations he is known as the "Happy Boy."

Mr. Kerr is a real preacher, a young man of great faith. He is also the composer of more than 300 gospel songs. In his meetings he frequently has his audience suggest a title and in a few minutes he will compose words and music and play and sing this new song.

The Champion gladly makes correction of an error which appeared in the tabulated election returns of the Salty voting box on the race of governor. The returns printed in the Champion showed that Bullington received 26 votes against 6 for Mrs. Ferguson, which was an error on the part of the Commissioner's Court who tabulated and issued the returns to the Milam County Press. Officials in charge of the Salty box state that the returns should have read 26 votes for Mrs. Ferguson and 6 for Bullington. The Champion gladly makes this correction at the request of the Salty people, as the report cast a reflection on this thriving little community of our friends and neighbors. ### Dorothy Blaylock To Direct Play Here By Yoe Dramatic Class

Thursday, December 15 at 8 o'clock the Yoe High Dramatic Class will present a comedy in three acts, "Oh, Professor!" by Katherine Kavanaugh, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Blaylock.

The play is full of humorous situations, merry complications, and scrambled fun. It is all about a light hearted crowd of characters, crisscrossed in a tangle of absurd mix-ups that does not get straightened out until the final curtain goes down on two hours of riotous fun-making.

The comedy revolves around the precise Miss Frederica, who has her maidenly eye on the scholarly Dr. Aristotle; there's the beautiful and astute Patricia and the dynamic Fifi; there's Jake, the comic janitor; the uproariously funny role of Percival; the irrepressible Jimmy, and the much badgered Michael. Teen there are the four pretty girls—Bertha, Jean, Fluff and Belle—who bounce through the play.

Members of the cast are: Jack Masters, Madie Watson, Niley Smith, Carolyn Cheeves, Mary Keywood, Julian, Sula Mae Depew, Nancy Newton, John Watson, Julian Freeman, Ray Burke, Patsy McGregor and Bettye McCollum.

Playlets and specialty numbers will be presented between acts.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

When Valerie von Sturm demands that Paul Onslow, head of the Sylvanian delegation at the Geneva Peace Conference, choose between her and his career, he writes his resignation. Then he is strangled. Professor Bauer, a noted scientist, who has called to attend Valerie's dinner-reception that night, restores him to six hours of life with a machine of his invention. Paul shows an uncanny knowledge of events happening since his demise, tears up his resignation. He says he knows his assailant. Karl Kranz, Valerie's former fiancé, suspected by the police chief of attacking Paul, enters.

Chapter V

"GOOD evening gentlemen," said Karl. Then apologizing, "I hope I haven't delayed dinner. My cab was held up in traffic."

"Oh, International Boulevard, wasn't it Karl," asked Onslow.

His friend stared at him dumbfounded as he agreed. Satisfied that there had been no murderous anger between these two the Commissioner puffed at his cigar resignedly.

When the others had gone down to join Valerie's guests, Karl remained behind with his friend, still puzzled that he should know of the traffic delay. His uneasiness increased as Paul presented him with valuable papers in case of his death and showed little interest in Valerie's dinner party. When Karl had gone down, Paul took the flower from his dresser and put it in his lapel. He lifted Ivan's cross and hung it about his neck.

Valerie was waiting for him at the foot of the staircase, her eyes shining, devouring him. She reproached him tenderly for his tardiness. Then slipping her arm in his, she presented him to her guests.

When dinner was announced and the company divided into partners and passed into the dining room Valerie looked for Paul to take her in. She was astonished to see him leaving the room with the Marquessa Franco on his arm. Puzzled and hurt she went in with Karl.

At the table, her composure recovered, she set about placing her guests.

"Monsieur le Commissaire, will you sit here, next to me," indicating the chair on her left. "And you Professor, on Papa's left, and Karl, on Papa's right, and Paul—here—beside me."

Paul passed the chair designated.

"If you don't mind Valerie, I'll sit here beside the Marquessa. She is so interested in politics."

Valerie's smile faded, her eyes filled with pain at the rebuff. This was the second affront. Then collecting herself, she turned to her guests.

"Shall we be seated?" Soon the courses began to arrive and the guests forgot the incident.

When the cigarettes had been lighted Paul slipped away. He had ordered his car to be ready to take him to the conference, and sent Ivan to ask Valerie to meet him in the garden.

He came upon her under the poplars.

"Valerie," he murmured, "I had to speak to you before I left."

"Judging from your manners," her reply came coldly, "I know what you're going to say."

He moistened his dry lips.

"I don't want to hurt you dear, but what you ask is impossible. Think what you want me to give up—a great political career—a brilliant diplomatic life—everything I've striven to achieve."

"I see," her hands writhed agonizedly, "They mean so much more than I or my love."

"My dear —"

"That's it—isn't it?" His arms moved out to embrace her and she shrank away. "Don't touch me. I suppose, after your victory tonight, you'll go home—and they'll unveil a statue in your honor," sneering. "THE GREAT PAUL ONSLOW — PATRIOT. That's so much finer than any tribute I could give"—her voice broke—"even though mine would have called you, 'Father'."

"Mind with anger she could not see that she was crucifying him. Only half hearing his tortured, Valerie, don't—"

she went on "Oh I wish that bullet this afternoon had taken both of us. I would have died thinking that you cared —"

"Don't—Valerie—don't," he cried, his arms going about the woman he loved. Then as quickly he realized the futility of that desire. He could only hurt her. He released her. As he did she checked her tirade.

"Oh Paul," she turned to him. Startled she saw Ivan's cross gleaming on his shirt front. "I thought you didn't believe in God or crosses."

"Sometimes we learn."

The strange remoteness of his tone awed her.

"Paul don't be so strange," she begged. Then, "Darling you can have Sylvia and your career—but you must have me too. I won't give you up."

Somehow he managed to steel himself to answer.

"I should never have come between you and Karl. Your happiness lies with him."

"My happiness is my own affair. You don't love me—that's all."

She looked at him a moment, then whirled away from him. He watched her go. Then he gazed at his wrist watch.

Six hours to live! Six hours of breath and the stars! Reckless bravado and despair rushed like a fire through him. He sprang into his car and loosed the whole power of the engine. The mad pace exhilarated him as he tore along the roads, entered the city and flashed through the streets. A tire burst—the car swerved crazily. Paul laughed. Then a lurch—a sickening crash—

When Paul emerged from the wrecked car bystanders muttered:

"Only the devil could live through that."

The dazed smile was still on his face. Then the clock struck. An hour of his time had flown. The thought sobered him. He entered a church and walked down the silent shadowy aisle, softly, so quietly that an old woman kneeling at the altar rail did not hear him. She was praying aloud that his might see her son again, who was dead.

Onslow stood behind her, pity writ large on his face. She buried her head in her hands, weeping. Paul came close to her, and spoke gently to her. She raised her head, not quite sure she had heard a voice. Then she saw him.

"What are you doing here?"

"I was brought here with a message for you. Your son hasn't left you mother. He's with you every day, loving you . . . watching over you. Some day you will be with him again. You and he will go on together . . ."

She watched him go, awe and wonder mingled in her look.

"Going my way?" he heard a woman's voice beside him as he walked toward the palace. He saw the pretty woman of the town who had accosted him earlier.

"I was arrested because of you," she said. "It cost me a life."

"I'm sorry I caused you trouble," he answered sympathetically. "What can I do to make it up to you?"

The girl had expected a different answer. She stared at him. Then she caught his arm.

"Let's go in here."

They entered the glittering cafe before which they stood. Soon they were dancing. Suddenly Paul felt a hand in his coat pocket. He grasped it quickly. It was the girl's.

"Why did you do that," he demanded.

"Because I need money," she answered defiantly. "What's money to you? Nothing. To me it means a chance to get away from all this."

They had reached their table. He read truth in her eyes. He gave her some bills from his wallet.

"Here take these!"

He bowed at her wonderstruck gratitude and left her. Outside, he adjusted his hat. He felt a hand on his sleeve. It was the girl.

"Wait, when will I see you again?" He smiled sardonically.

"Day after tomorrow in the Rue Morgue."

TOM GARFIELD IN CAMP

I have just read a very interesting book of adventure called "Tom Garfield in Camp." It was written by a very interesting author named Allen Chapman.

The best character and the most delightful character was Tom Garfield himself. He had sandy hair; his clothes were old, and while in camp he wore a fur cap which was made from a panther's hide. Tom was very strong, not only in body but in mind. Tom was a very good singer, that is the boys in camp said he was.

One day his partner was sitting under a tree leaning up against the trunk of it asleep. The other boys were off hunting for something to eat. They came around the bend of the river just in time to see a large beast make a leap for Fred. Tom shot and hit the beast through the body. Fred had a lame leg and could not run. He just began to roll down the river bank to the water for the beast was not yet dead. Tom gave the beast a shot that struck his heart and that was the last time he ever saw daylight.

I would advise all boys to read this book for it is very exciting and will help make you want to do the same things he did.

—James Brogdon.

TOMMY DANE OF SONORA

I have just finished a book of adventure "Tommy Dane of Sonora," written by A. Grove Day. It is a good story.

The chief character is Tommy Dane, Jr., who has courage. His clothing is ragged and old. He does not have any shoes. He is quick and sly.

The best scene in the story is when he finds his father, who had been captured by a tribe of Indians and half crazed Mexicans. Tom, his father, Joe Buckingham and dead shot Garretty escaped being killed by Indigo, a crazed Mexican rebel.

I recommend this story to be read by my class mates. I am very glad I read it.

—Victor Walzel.

PIRATES OF THE SHOALS

I have read a very exciting book about several pirates trying to capture a ship from two young boys. The name of the book is "Pirates of the Shoals," which was written by Barbour.

The character that I liked most is the "Bearded Man." He had very long, dirty, shaggy whiskers, and was very mean and rough looking. He tried to shoot down one of the boys, but the boy, Terry, ran him off with a revolver.

The most exciting incident that took place was when Terry, Trick and Snook, the dog, ran away with the three pirates, Dave, Red and the Bearded Man. The Bearded Man came and told Dave and Red that Terry and Trick were trying to take Tricks's father's ship to him. Terry, Trick and Snook slipped off and got the ship started, and left the shoals. All night the pirates chased the ship, but finally got lost from the sight of it, and the boys got away.

This book is very interesting for boys and girls in the sixth and seventh grades. I think the boys would enjoy the story more than the girls would.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

For my six weeks reading assignment I read the book by Rafael Sabatini, "Captain Blood." This is a book of adventure.

The best character was Captain Blood. His clothing was different at different times. As a doctor it was fine clothing; as a slave homespun; as a pirate sometimes fine, sometimes poor. One of his characteristics was to always remain cool. Another was he was never fooled, but always fooling the other fellow. He was a very learned character which is to be proved by some of his sayings, such as "praemonitus, praemonitus," which in Latin means "forewarned, forearmed."

The most exciting scene in the story is when Dan Diego, brother of the Admiral of Spain, betrays him. Don Diego was to navigate him to the Dutch settlement of Curaco, but instead he takes them to the Spanish Island of Hispaniola.

I recommend this story to be read as it is full of adventure.

—Luie Turner.

LITTLE PAPOOSE LISTENS

I have just been reading a very interesting book of adventure. The name of the book is "Little Papoose Listens." It was written by a very interesting author, Ellen Donaldson.

The best character of the book is the little Papoose. The little papoose is a very strong little boy. He has a blanket over his back.

The most exciting incident was when little papoose was lost in the woods. The old Indian Chief got his men to go and look for little Papoose or there would be war. The men began to quarrel and finally the fight began. As they were fighting, they heard a loud cry. The men ran into the woods and there was Little Papoose playing with the birds. The old Indian Chief went and got Little Papoose and carried him home. When the old Indian Chief came home everyone was happy.

I would recommend the book to be read, because it tells about the way the Indians lived. I would advise girls and boys to read this book because it is very interesting.

—Louie Rimer.

TWO LITTLE CONFEDERATES

The name of the book that I have read lately is "Two Little Confederates." The book tells of the experiences of two little boys during the Civil War. It is written by Thomas Nelson Page.

The best character in the story is Frank. He is the older of the two boys and always plans their adventures. He is mischievous; his brain is always busy. The family lose their money during the War and the boys do not have very good clothes.

The most important event is the battle which takes place in the meadow back of the house. The boys' enemy friend gets killed in the battle, and they are very sorry because he was good to them when they were in danger. The battle was important also because it was the nearest that took place near their home.

I enjoyed the story very much. I am sure that anyone else who reads it will find it very interesting. You learn of the hardships of the people during the war and how the mischievous boys managed to get fun from even those conditions.

—Zora Wilkerson.

THE ALASKAN

I have read "The Alaskan" for this term's outside reading. This is an adventure story of a man who wanted to solve the troubles of Alaska. The author of this book is James Oliver Curwood.

John Graham, the man who starved and killed people of Alaska, and the man who had Alaska under his control is the character I like. He is a cruel robber and killer. Graham usually wore a large dark brown hat, boots and black pants. When Mary Standish and Alan Hobt planned to go to the states they investigated their path to see if it were clear of danger. After walking a mile or two Mary grew pale. At this time she saw figures at a distance. She cried out "they look like animals—no, they are men. John Graham is coming after us." This is an exciting part of the story.

This story is an enjoyable one. It teaches us how to overcome difficulties and how to go through life.

—Alvin Sustek.

ROBERT MOFAT

In my leisure time I have read a book of which the name is "Robert Mofat." It is a missionary book. The book is written by Grace Arthur.

The strongest character in the book is Robert Mofat. He is a tall man who wears a moustache. He can control himself easily. He is also very kind.

Robert Mofat was the most civilized man in the country. The Chief of an Indian tribe had a savage dog. One time in the story the dog ate an old woman's Bible.

I would advise the boys to read this book, for it is about fighting between the tribes, and I am sure all boys like fighting.

—Eugenia Alford.

THE LONG TRAIL BOYS AND THE MYSTERY OF THE FINGERPRINT

The name of the interesting book is "The Long Trail Boys and the Mystery of the Fingerprint." It is a book of mystery and adventure of Snow King Mountain. This book was written by Dale Wilkins.

The best character in this book is Flores, who wore a suit of feathers, which he had found in a cave in the mountains, after his father had been murdered by this crazy man. He was kind and very good.

The most important event I think was when Strangle Neet was hiding upon the mountain to get Flores. Flores and the others were going to shoot him, but as they were going to shoot, Flores's big white horse, who the Strangle Neet had been trying to kill, came up behind Strangle Neet and kicked him off the cliff and killed him.

I would recommend this book to any who like to read adventure and mystery stories.

—Taylor Moore.

KIT CARSON

I have just finished an exciting and adventurous story called "Kit Carson's Life," which was written by S. Ellis.

The best character was Kit himself. He wore a felt hat, buck skin shoes and the rest of his dress was leather. A pistol was on his right and left, and a rifle on his right arm. One of his sayings was: "It is better to be weak in stature than weak in mind". He was about five feet and six inches in height.

The most exciting incident was when the Black Feet Indians captured some of the horses. Later the trappers overtook them, and they had a little skirmish.

I will gladly recommend this book to anyone. You will like it because you will learn some of the good habits of Kit. He is one of the most famous characters of the gold rush time. He made a path for all gold seekers in California.

EMILY OF NEW MOON

I have just finished reading a very interesting book called "Emily of New Moon." This story is more suited for a girl to read than for a boy. The author of the book is Montgomery. From beginning to end it is full of adventures.

The character in the story that I disliked was Emily's aunt Elizabeth. Miss Elizabeth is very stiff. She dresses very old fashioned and is "just so," is very stern and does not care for fun of many kinds and she does not care for foolishness of any kind. She has a very hard voice and manner.

In this story the most exciting incident happened while Emily was very ill. While she was ill she was thought to be unconscious. She said that she could see a man's wife who ran away from home. Her aunt did not believe her, but Emily kept on saying that she knew that she saw her fall in the well in the meadow. Finally Miss Elizabeth looked in the well and sure enough she found the lady. After this she liked Emily better. Emily was not unconscious after all.

I would surely recommend this story to be read by both boys and girls. I am sure, though, that a girl would enjoy it much more than a boy.

—Ella Bess Haygood.

THE RANCH GIRLS AT BOARDING SCHOOL

I have read a very interesting book the last six weeks by the name of "The Ranch Girls at Boarding School." This is the story of the ranch girls school days, and of finding one girl's grandmother. It is written by Margaret Vandercook.

The character that I liked best was Olive Ralston, one of the four ranch girls. She wore dresses that Ruth Drew had made for her. She wore her dark black hair down on her shoulders. She had dark complexion which made her very white teeth show very plainly. She did not know her parents and many people thought she was half Indian. She often told Jean Bruce, her room mate to go on without her because she did not want to stand in the way of Jean's popularity. Olive was a very quiet, sweet girl.

I think the most important event in this book is when Olive Ralston found her grandmother. From old papers and from an old Indian woman, Miss Katherine Winthrop proved that Olive's grandmother was Madame Van Master, the rich old lady who lived just behind Primrose Hall.

I would recommend that each girl in the Seventh Grade class read the book in her leisure time. It teaches a girl not to be sarcastic and not to talk about people of whom you know nothing.

—Helen Ryan.

TROOP NO. 52
J. A. Lindle, Scoutmaster

The regular meeting was held Friday night with an attendance of 34. The feature of the evening was the visit of the scoutmaster's brother, Sargeant H. A. Lindle, of the sixty-second service squadron at Brooksfield, San Antonio. Sargeant Lindle who has been quite a world traveler, proved to be an interesting speaker and the scouts were fascinated by his adventure stories of the far East, Siberia, the South American Jungles, China, Japan and the beautiful Hawaiian Islands. The scouts were especially interested in the Chinese wall.

The games were conducted by the assistant scoutmaster, Louis Matula.

On Tuesday night, November 29, Troop No. 53 celebrated their annual rabbit feast in the hall of the K. of C. With pleasant memories of the last years event, the boys and guests were on hand early. The tables were in banquet style and well supplied with rabbit, salads, pickles, bread, apples, candy and coffee.

Seated at the head of the table were the scoutmaster, J. A. Lindle;

toastmaster, George Matocha; District Judge elect, W. G. Gillis, chairman of the local court of honor and troop committeeman, A. G. Kunz; F. A. Michalka, Rudolph Richter, Dr. A. S. Valenta; Grand Knight, R. A. Michalka and Walter Plocek. Then followed Assistant Scoutmaster Louis Matula; twenty registered scouts and eight visiting scouts making a total attendance of 34. Tenderfoot scout, Johnnie Stanislaw served coffee at the table. After the meal the scoutmaster in a unique and well arranged prophecy of 20 years hence introduced the toastmaster for the evening. George in a very pleasing way conducted the balance of the program, which included speeches from Judge Gillis, the Committeeman and the Grand Knight, followed an interesting story from C. W. Gjedde, cowboy songs by "Hank" Matula and his guitar, French harp selections by Patrol Leader, Paul Michalka.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, the meeting was turned over to the scoutmaster who presented the membership of Troop No. 52 to Judge Gillis. After a brief response by Judge Gillis, the affair was closed by Judge Gillis leading with the scout oath and law. "America" was sung by the entire assembly.

The entire membership of Troop No. 32 wishes to express their thanks to Mr. Joe Richter, Mrs. Gussie Matula, Mrs. Kunz, Mr. Joe Schriber and especially to the hunters who killed the rabbits.

The banquet was enjoyed by all those present and everyone is looking forward to the feast that will be held next year.

TROOP NO. 32

B. L. Archer, Scoutmaster.

Troop No. 32 had a strictly play meeting Friday night with the boys in charge. The scoutmaster was present but ill with a cold so had to be on the silent list.

Melvin and Anthony Cecil formerly of Buckholts and members of Troop No. 32, write that they are transferring to a troop at Rusk near their new home, which is at Alto, Texas. We all hope that they will be as active in scout work there as they were here.

TROOP NO. 53

J. W. Haygood, Scoutmaster

The regular meeting was held Friday night with a very good attendance. One new scout registered for this year in scouting. This meeting was given over to games of various kinds and just before closing, a program was arranged for our next meeting. The Black Bear Patrol is to furnish the program, while our scoutmaster will give another quiz on some parts of scouting. Each patrol leader is urged to have all his members in attendance at each meeting.

Correction Is Made In Vote at Salty Box

The Champion gladly makes correction of an error which appeared in the tabulated election returns of the Salty voting box on the race of governor. The returns printed in the Champion showed that Bullington received 26 votes against 6 for Mrs. Ferguson, which was an error on the part of the Commissioner's Court who tabulated and issued the returns to the Milam County Press. Officials in charge of the Salty box state that the returns should have read 26 votes for Mrs. Ferguson and 6 for Bullington. The Champion gladly makes this correction at the request of the Salty people, as the report cast a reflection on this thriving little community of our friends and neighbors. We are indeed glad that only 6 of the 33 votes cast were party bolters.—Thorndale Champion.

Turkey Raisers Read This!

Thanksgiving turkey market is now past history but we believe will be remembered by many.

We have started buying turkeys for our eastern Christmas requirements and will pay the market price every day. Last year the Eastern markets sold turkeys to the consumer at about 10 cents per pound higher with about the same number of cars on the market, and all were sold and consumed. This year with practically 75 per cent of the crop still on the farms and nearly 300 cars stored from the Thanksgiving market, (amounting to over five million pounds) on account of lack of demand and buying power, we are not going to predict what price they will bring for Christmas.

There are not many dressing plants in Texas that can handle more or as many turkeys per day as your home dressing plant, however, we cannot handle the remaining crop in only a few days and get them to the eastern markets for Christmas. We suggest that you bring in a few turkeys every time you come to town and take the low and take the high and this will give you a good average price for your crop, and which will not congest the dressing plants. A congestion of dressing plants means lower prices and this year may mean no price at all during congestion.

Your attention is called to this fact: We don't operate trucks or have buyers in the trade territory nor pay commissions to anyone. You raise the turkeys and you are entitled to every cent they are worth. You can bet your last dollar, anyone hustling or buying your turkeys on the farm is making a nice profit, which you can make yourself.

We guarantee that we will pay the highest market price for straight run flocks (by this we mean an equal proportion of hens and toms) free of feed, straight breasted healthy turkeys. We will be glad to talk the turkey situation over with you any time day or night and give you the best we have in the shop. Get in touch with us before selling and get the top price for your products.

Remember, we are a home institution and employ about 200 needy people, and every penny is spent here in your community. We sincerely ask for co-operation.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardul has helped thousands of women: "I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardul, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardul, the purely vegetable medicine which so many women take and recommend, is sold by local druggists.

May Enjoy Christmas in Mansions in the Skies

IT IS not now the fashion to "keep both feet on the ground." In fact it's hard to keep even one foot on the ground; the other one seems always to be up, getting into a car or an airplane; and pretty soon, there you are—both feet entirely, completely, distinctly off the ground!

What this condition may mean to future generations is hard to guess. Perhaps in a year or two people will make a date to celebrate Christmas three thousand feet up in the air. "Come on up!" friends may be urging. "We're going to shoot a party up over Mt. Washington. Dancing, charades and a fancy dress ball!"

And we shall be obliged to taxi in a small plane to the party and be whisked aboard, and worry whether we can get a taxi-plane home again.

And every cockpit will be trimmed in colored bulbs and the trade for Christmas trees will be literally going up! Plane trucks to deliver a fine spruce at the service entrance of a Flying Mansion in the Skies.

So don't stick to that old one about both feet on the ground. If you do, you'll find yourself frightfully low-down and left behind!—Martha Banning Thomas.

Mrs. Tom Paul of Rockdale, spent Saturday here with Mrs. M. C. Sapp. Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Cox of Galveston spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox, and accompanied them to Lampasas where they visited Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Barnett on the sheep and cattle ranch. Mrs. Barnett was formerly Miss Mary Louise Elliott before her marriage December 1.

Mrs. Floris Criswell of Calvert was a guest at the Barnett-Elliott wedding, and remained for a visit with Mrs. M. G. Cox, returning to her home the next day.

Mrs. Ernest Beard of Calvert was a recent guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Henderson.

Health and Beauty
All Depend on
Mineral Balance

Lack of Sufficient Minerals and Vitamins Destroys Health and Brings on Untold Pain and Suffering.

No man, woman or child can look their best, feel well and strong and enjoy life, as God intended, unless the Mineral content of the body is kept in proper balance. This fact has been proven conclusively.

FOODS DEVITALIZED
Modern methods of refining foods rob them of much of the Mineral content so necessary to health. Poor cooking and unbalanced diets are another source of trouble. The body is starved for the essential Minerals and Vitamins. Soon we suffer with indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness, pimply skin. We lose weight, feel tired and listless, fail to get enough sleep. Health deserts us and we wonder why.

NATURAL WAY TO HEALTH
After years of research, a new and remarkable formula has been perfected that supplies the body with the essential Minerals. This preparation is not a "patent" medicine but a scientific blending of Minerals and Vitamins that aids Nature in quickly balancing the mineral content of the body, clearing away intestinal poisons and building new strength and vitality.

MISS MARY LOUISE ELLIOTT BECOMES BRIDE OF WILLIAM WALLACE BARNETT IN BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING HERE

A beautiful twilight wedding was the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Elliott Thursday, December First, when she became the bride of William Wallace Barnett of Lampasas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox, Rev. N. D. Timme, man of the First Baptist church reading the impressive ring ceremony.

An attractive fall setting where brown tones and green featured the chosen theme for decorations, were used throughout the reception rooms and adjoining sun parlor where an improvised altar for plighting the vows was decorated with the chosen colors. Handsome plumosa ferns rested in tall pedestal containers at either side of the wide entrance to the sun parlor which was banked with ferns, with twinkling candles gleaming at intervals in the background, casting shadowy lights over the scene. The same colors were noted in the reception parlor and thru-out the home.

Mrs. A. C. Strickland presided at the piano and accompanie Mrs. C. W. Bradbury who gave a violin solo, "The Swan," by Saint Saens. The Baptist Male Quartette, composed of M. G. Cox, A. C. Strickland, John Hays and Ray Burke sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," by J. L. Molloy. For the Processional Lohengren's March was used.

Cecil Criswell was the best man and Mrs. Criswell, attired in a handsome dark maroon costume, Matron of Honor, entered by way of the sun parlor and took her stand on the side of the altar facing Mr. Criswell. Ray Duckworth was bridegroom and was followed by Miss Sue Malone, bridesmaid, attired in brown, who stood at side of altar. Next came the demure little flower girl and ring bearer, Rosemary Luckett, dressed in a light blue dress with blond slippers, carrying a novelty basket from which she dropped rose petals, taking her position at the altar, followed by the bride and bridegroom who came in together, and met the minister who read the marriage vows. During the ceremony Mrs. Strickland softly played "La Chiquantine," by Gabriel-Marie. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for the recessional when congratulations were showered upon the couple.

Mesdames George Cay, John A. Smith, J. W. Coleman and C. C. Bayler assisted Mrs. Cox in the hospitalities of the occasion, and welcomed the guests, and invited them into the dining room where Misses Gladys Davis and Dorothy Lesovsky passed brick ice cream embossed with pink wedding bells & cake. Guests were invited to register in the bride's book while in the dining room, and view the many handsome wedding gifts in the adjoining room.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. B. Elliott of Buckholts, and was handsomely dressed in a rich chestnut brown cloth suit with hat and accessories to match, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. She is a graduate of the Yoe High School, and had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox during her school days, and lived there since, occupying a stenographic position the past three years. She is deservedly popular with a large circle of friends who wish for her many good things.

The groom is the son of Mrs. W. W. Barnett of Dothan, Alabama, and is a splendid young business man. Is engaged in raising sheep and stock on a ranch near Lampasas where they will make their home.

Out of town relatives and friends to attend the wedding were: Mrs. B. Elliott and three daughters, Misses Oleta, Mattie Ruth and Elizabeth and Buford, Jr. of Buckholts; Mr. and Mrs. Baugh and two sons of Rogers; Mrs. W. W. City and town await your coming with the same eagerness and happy anticipation; rich and poor give you the same hearty welcome. The old and the young, the great and the humble, know that you will not fail them. Through changing years and times always you have brought the same glad joy; the same welcome message of love and peace and good will. The happiness that you bring lights up every face; under your influence every home radiates good cheer and the Christmas candles shine as a symbol of the love and joy within. With some kind of magic you transform us all into the men and women we would wish to be; with a power that no other day possesses you prompt us to deeds of love and service and giving. Cares are forgotten in the joy you bring; sunshine fills every heart as the spirit of love and friendliness spreads itself abroad. And with one voice the whole world bids you welcome and all bless you for the joy and the happiness you bring.—Katherine Edelman.
